JULY

A weekend of words, books,
writing & ideas.

We've got something for everyone

WORD QUEST by WORD FEST

Opens 12 noon, Friday 24th July

Closes 12 noon, Sunday 26th July

Apollo Bay Word Fest is sending our word-loving fans on a quest ... a word quest of course!

8 photos revealed on our website at midday, FRIDAY 24TH JULY, each of something you've walked past a zillion times. Use these clues to locate the hidden word & take a selfie. Find all 8 words & piece together to reveal our Word Quest quote. Email us the quote & the photographic evidence of you in all 8 locations. The first email received containing all the right information WINS $100!!! It's cerebral, in a Kodak-COVID-camera kinda way!

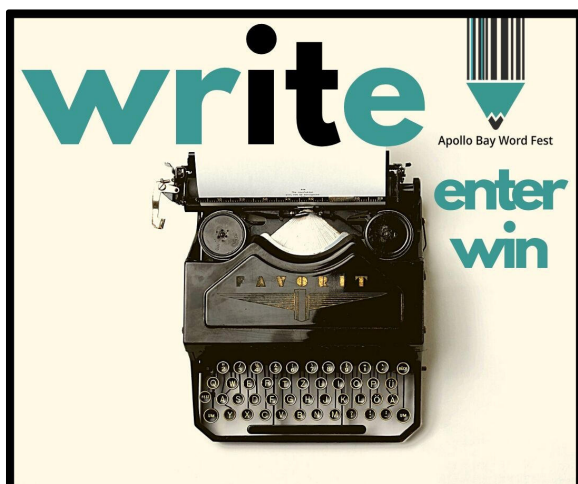

PERCEPTIBLE, Friday 24th July, 7pm

Poetry comes into its own during days of panic, plague, peril, precariousness. Last year, we came together to share poetry that moved us, under one roof on a winter's night and warmed our hands around a hot pie. Together with Holly Munday Bespoke Catering, Poetry & Pies was born. But that was pre-COVID19. Pre-AVOID(co).

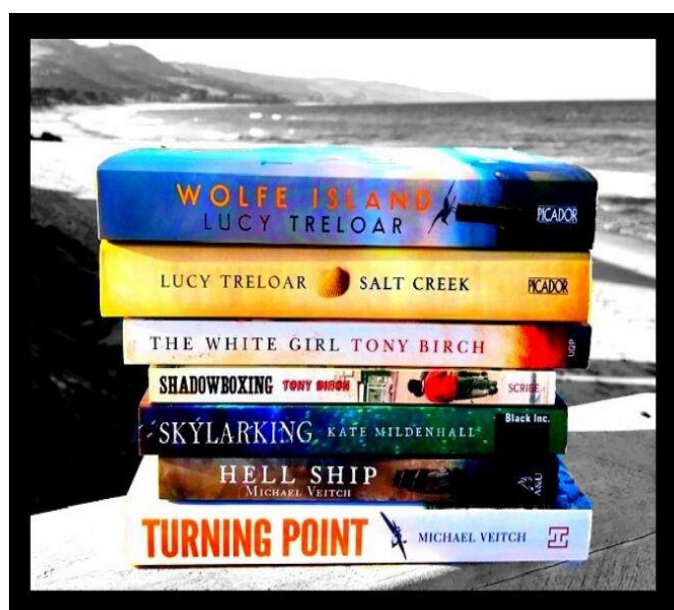

Poetry is needed now more than ever for solace, beauty, escape, rhythm. And so is togetherness. In this time of isolation and uncertainty, join us for a virtual Poetry & Pies. We're calling it Perceptible, for it's all about perceptions.

A FREE curated event of the spoken word, by a town, for a town. Perceptible will be aired at apollobaywordfest.com

Short Story Comp WINNERS
midday, SATURDAY 25th JULY
 apollobaywordfest.com

Winners announced for our inaugural short story competition. Lots of students from our school entered in the junior categories, so there's every chance we'll have a local winner! Head to our website at midday to find out!

Warm Winter Words
2pm, SUNDAY 26th JULY
 FREE, digital event, apollobaywordfest.com

Apollo Bay's 27th Warm Winter Words is going digital. In collaboration with The First Time podcast, we're bring our cosy Sunday afternoon event straight into your living rooms to be enjoyed with a cuppa.

Join us as KATE MILDENHALL chats to TONY BIRCH, LUCY TRELOAR & MICHAEL VEITCH about all things books, writing, hindsight & foresight. Head to our website for your listening pleasure.

NIGHT LIGHT
DUSK. SUNDAY 26th JULY

We've been thinking of things that sustain us when (parts of) our worlds darken. So, for awe, wonder, words and community togetherness, we're asking you to step out, look up, and shine a light!

Apollo Bay's capturing an eagle-eye image of how we shine when things go dark. Emitting light for one another; telling the rest of the state that we're still here when all this ends. OUR light, projected back to us for posterity...

At DUSK. Step OUT. Look UP. SHINE.
 AND if you send us an image of your light in the dark, you could win a scenic flight with Apollo Bay Aviation to the Twelve Apostles for you & some friends!!! Most AWESome image WINS!
